THE NEW YO

RK ROCK

Dear Miss Kunz,
As we end our senior year
We want to let you know
How special you'll always be to us
And how sad we are to go
It seems like only yesterday
We first came to know
Your patient guidance and understanding
Which has always pulled us through
At crucial moments, a reassuring hand,
At joyful times, an encouraging smile.
You let us grow at our own pace
Helping us all the time
We grew to respect each other
And these past four years have helped us
To understand life better.
We say good-bye with great sorrow;
We have found our time to leave.
Please realize how much you mean to us,
And that you'll always remain in our hearts.
We dedicate our edition of "The Rock" to you in appreciation for all that you have done for us.

With Much Love,
The Class of '80

The Class of Nineteen hundred and eighty of
East Rockaway High School
requests the honor of your presence at their
Junior-Senior Prom
"Mahogany"
Friday evening, the eighth of June nineteen hundred and seventy-nine from eight until one o'clock to be held at
Terrace- On-The-Park
Queens, New York
Black Tie

DO YOU KNOW . . .

. . . WHERE YOU'RE

GOING TO?

DO YOU LIKE THE THINGS THAT LIFE
IS SHOWING YOU?

WHERE ARE YOU GOING TO,

The prom is an activity which most high school students look forward to. Every junior and senior hopes that he or she may experience the happiness that comes along with it. It is a night filled with dancing and memories. Those who participate in this joyous event will remember it forever.

Last year, our prom was held at Terrace on the Park in the exciting city of New York. We would like to extend our thanks to chairpersons Karin Young and Barri Weicholz for their dedication and hard work which added to the success of "Mahogany."

DO YOU KNOW?

East Rockaway High School is only an invisible dot on a map while New York City is a much more recognized place in the world and throughout the state.

East Rockaway High School shares many physical aspects with New York City. Our auditorium is our own Radio City Music Hall. Rock Rivalry and Dramatics Club plays fill us with the same excitement as Broadway fills the city. The intense competition found in Madison Square Garden can also be found in our own high school gym.

As New York City is surrounded by water, we too are surrounded by our own Hudson River, Mill River. People struggle to better themselves in the city and we also struggle to succeed in our lives at East Rockaway High School.

The similarities are much deeper than physical. The thing which makes East Rockaway High School even more like New York City is the love that we have for our area. Just as New York City is greatly esteemed, we also hold a high opinion of our school. We respect it and take pride in it.

Old buildings which have stood for some years have been torn down and replaced. Still, these buildings will not be forgotten by those who once made them their homes. The same holds true for friends we have gathered at East Rockaway High School. Some friendships may fade with time and be replaced by new ones, but their memories will remain with us.

Now in leaving East Rockaway High School we will begin our new life and reach for goals for the future. People flock to the city to set their foundations and later leave with hopes to prosper. We have set our foundations here in our "New York City" and we leave eager to fulfill our highest aspirations.

Dr. William K. Louis
Superintendent

As school superintendent, Dr. Louis' responsibilities lie not only at the high school but also at the two grammar schools. His tasks include ensuring proper conditions at the high school and being a mediator between our administration and the Board of Education. We wish to show our deep gratitude to him for the great effort he has exerted toward the improvement of East Rockaway High School.

Board of Education

1. Mr. R. Humes
2. Mr. J. Fitzpatrick
3. Miss C. Schempp
4. Dr. W. Louis
5. Mrs. C. Leahy
6. Mr. E. Cole
7. Mr. H. Bunting

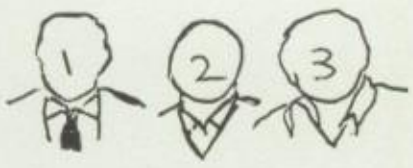
One major group directly related to the school which seems to be overlooked is the Board of Education. Their efforts are tremendous, but, yet, as time progresses, the student body fails to be aware of this point. The students never once question why the business of the school is in its proper place. If they did, they would realize that the Board plays a very necessary job for the school. These individuals work continuously and concientiously to upgrade the quality of our education. We thank them and hopefully in the years to come, their efforts will be more appreciated.

Parent Teachers Association

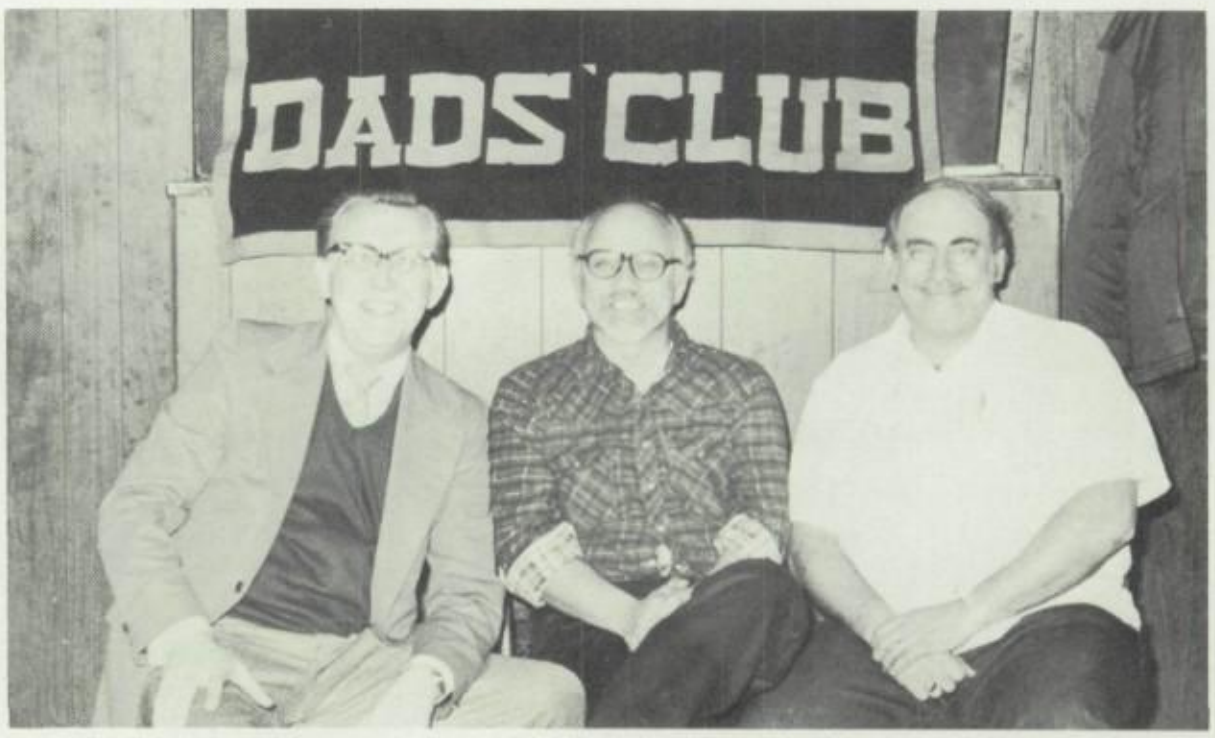
1. Mrs. P. Nelson — Recording Secretary
2. Mrs. B. Kennedy — 2nd Vice President
3. Mrs. A. Klose — President
4. Mrs. B. Schaefer — Treasurer
5. Mrs. M. Wilcox — 1st Vice President
6. Mrs. J. Pernice — Corresponding Secretary

The Parent-Teachers Association consists of parents active in our school affairs. These parents are concerned and find time to help improve our school. Activities such as the publishing of the Rock Rivalry journal, the scholarship awards, and the Junior Class trip are made available as a result of their work. We extend our thanks for their school and community work.

Dad's Club



1. Mr. J. Rieder
2. Mr. J. Persson
3.Mr. M. Lane



For its many wonderful contributions, the Dad's Club has been admired by high school students and community members alkie. It is a very respected and influential club. Each year the Dad's Club held the Annual Sports Award Dinner in which students were awarded for their fine achievements in various academic and extra-curricular activities. This fine organization is influential because of the dedication of many students and the community members. Thanks to everyone involved, many great achievements and contributions have been made.

As the principal of our school, Mr. Morse has taken on a very difficult task, enforcing the rules at E.R.H.S. Mr. Morse is an understanding problem-solver, and, though he is very busy, he makes time for each and every student. Mr. Morse is always willing to offer assistance wherever it may be needed, and for that we will always be grateful.

Mr. Robert D. Morse
Principal

Assistant Principal

Mr. Edward Crowley

Mr. Crowley, once known as our dean, has done as marvelous a job as our assistant principal. Because of him, we can be grateful for the solving of administrative and curriculum difficulties. He makes the job of the principal a little easier, and is always available for a word of advice and extends a helping hand.

Dean of Students

Mr. Lawrence Vande Water

As the dean of our student body, Mr. Vande Water has somewhat more contact with the pupils of our school than the rest of our administration. Mr. Vande Water's job entails reprimanding students for wrong doings and deciding fair retaliation. He, too, is interested in the well-being of the students and will always listen to any problems which may arise, and try to find a solution.

The Class of 1980
East Rockaway High School
East Rockaway, New York 11518

Dear Seniors:

The beginning of a new decade marks the end of your high school days. The challenges of the '80s will, as in the past, present enormous problems for our nation and to you as participating adult citizens. Russia's invasion of Afghanistan, our hostages in Iran, continued inflation and high taxes plague our country and affect you as young people. For example, the revival of the draft is a serious issue - even for our girls.

Hopefully, you have prepared yourself for the '80s and the decades to follow. We believe that your high school experiences have given you the opportunity to develop the maturity necessary to become contributing, responsible members of a highly complex society. To live a rich, full life acceptance of one's responsibility to family, country and self is a must.

Seniors, I wish you well in all that you do.

Sincerely,

Robert D. Morse

Our Student Council, advised by Mr. Steve Lander, is a vital organization to East Rockaway High School. Without it, we would have no say between matters involving both the student body and the faculty. The Council will once again work to make the annual Cosenza Games a success. Much of the Student Council's drive is generated by the Council's officers: Kevin Healy, Dan Caracciolo, Liz Donza, Francine Brotman, and Christopher Tamis. This year's council has shown the true meaning of cooperation between the students of East Rockaway and the administration.

The Student Peer Organization is a group of students who, under the supervision of Norma Adler, converse with seventh and eighth graders on such topics as alcohol, smoking, and peer pressure. Their job is not to lecture on what is right and wrong, but to provide the facts and let the students decide. As people can run into trouble in the city and may need guidance, SPO helps junior high students get through this difficult time in their lives.

The Hope Club, advised by Mrs. Mildred Brock, is one of the more important clubs that has been established within the school. The club was formed to help those in need, their motto being, "Help Other People Everywhere." The most important donations of the Hope Club to the community are the Senior Blood drive and the annual March of Dimes Superwalk. Both have grown in the past years, displaying the success of the HOPE Club.

The Key Club is an organization designed to serve the school and community. Advised by Mr. Jack Richert, it has started its year by holding a pancake breakfast, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. The purpose of the breakfast was to raise money for scholarships and charity. Included among the activities of the Key Club is visiting a nursing home during Christmas and conducting a drive for Muscular Dystrophy, along with a dance in the spring. The main goal Mr. Richert hopes to accomplish through the club is getting people involved and bringing about a feeling of self-gratification for what they're doing for themselves and for their community.

With the continuing growth of foreign speaking groups in and around New York City, it is especially important for young people to be exposed to these foreign languages and cultures. The Spanish Honor Society, composed of third and fourth year Spanish students, attempts to achieve this. The advisor, Mrs. Dorothy Larson, helps to encourage and develop the society's interest in Spanish, a language which is almost as universal in New York as our own.

When asked what the Health Aides are, one may say they are very similar to candy-stripers. Hospitals in and around New York have candy-stripers, East Rockaway High School has Health Aids. They are a small group of girls and boys who give up some of their time each day. They help Mrs. Annette Keenan with certain tasks around her office and through the school. Their jobs vary within a broad range. They do work from filing to searching for students in the school.

The Gull is our school newspaper which keeps the students' faculty, and administration well-informed about the happenings in and around the school. The staff, under the fine advising of Mr. Charles McAnulla, expends a great deal of time and energy to assure that the paper will be a success.

Because the Gull staff has so often done a superb job in reporting news, they have been presented with many awards crediting them for accomplishments. Among those who have recognized their achievements are the Columbia Press Association, the Empire State Scholastic Association and Newsday. The Gull has taken many first prizes in the past and hopes to have many more in the future.

The Dramatics Club, advised by Mr. Martin Severino, engaged in a very active year this year. The club is the largest in the school besides being the most popular. Mr. Severino plans a trip each month, whereupon, each trip; the members visit New York City to enjoy a Broadway Show and eat in a fine restaurant. Learning to appreciate New York and observing its cultural beauty is the main function of the club. In October, the club saw "Dancin'." November brought with it "Sweeney Todd," while "Deathtrap," and "A Chorus Line" were in line for December and February respectively.

The Club put on the successful musical "Bye, Bye Birdie" in November and was looking forward to performing "Ten Little Indians" in May of this year.

One of the greatest honors that can be bestowed upon a high school student is acceptance into the National Honor Society. The National Honor Society is very similar to the Dean's List of many colleges around New York City in that it is a very special group into which only a few students are elected. The National Honor Society, being advised by Mr. Martin Severino, is an elite group of students who are selected mainly on the basis of their scholastic achievements. Strong leadership, morale, fine character and service to their school add to their chances of acceptance. Membership in the National Honor Society is something that can be cherished for the rest of one's life, for it is the fruit reaped from many years of hard and diligent work.

It started in August and the only thing that got our team through those grueling summer practices was the ever-present feeling of pride and the desire to win. We had the talent, leadership, spirit and coaching, but as a result of traditional East Rockaway bad luck, we didn't get the breaks. Injuries to key players left our championship team in second place.

For the seniors, they left the field for the last time filled with dozens of memories and with a feeling of satisfaction. For years to come, they will remember the "field goal that hit the cross-bar" at Carle Place and "being awesome at Oyster Bay", but more importantly winning our last few games and our last game as Seniors, leaving the Rocks with their first winning season in five years.

As do the New York Marathoners, the Cross Country team puts a lot of time and energy, not to mention training, into their running. They are out on the track every day during the season. If the weather prohibits their running around outside, they do their warm-ups inside.

The team, under the direction of Coach Richard Wetherell, has held its own against the other school's teams in the past few years and this year they seemed to do the same.

The efforts of this team may be overlooked by some, but to others, their efforts are much appreciated and we hope they keep up their good work in the years to come.

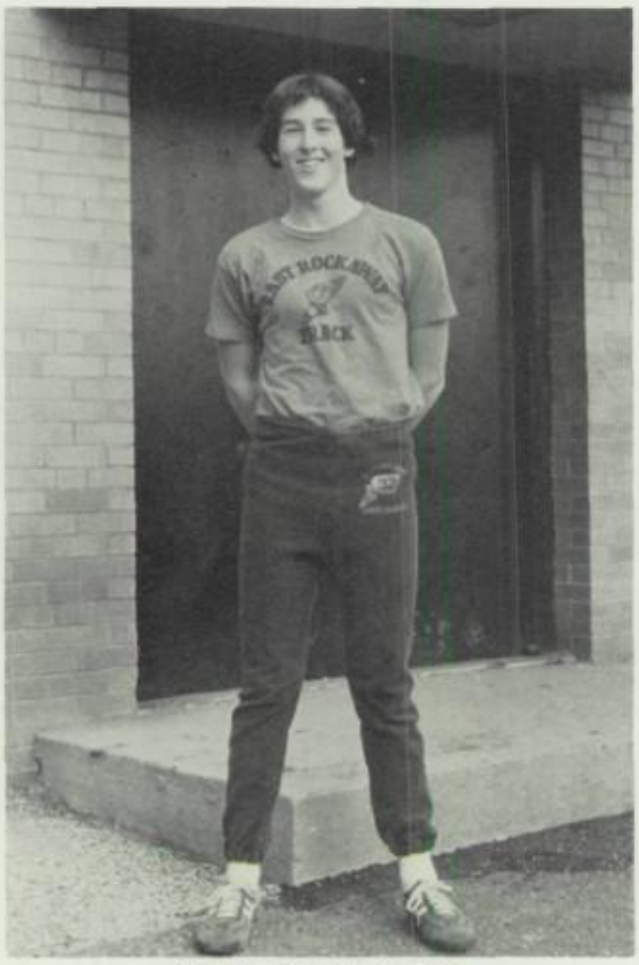
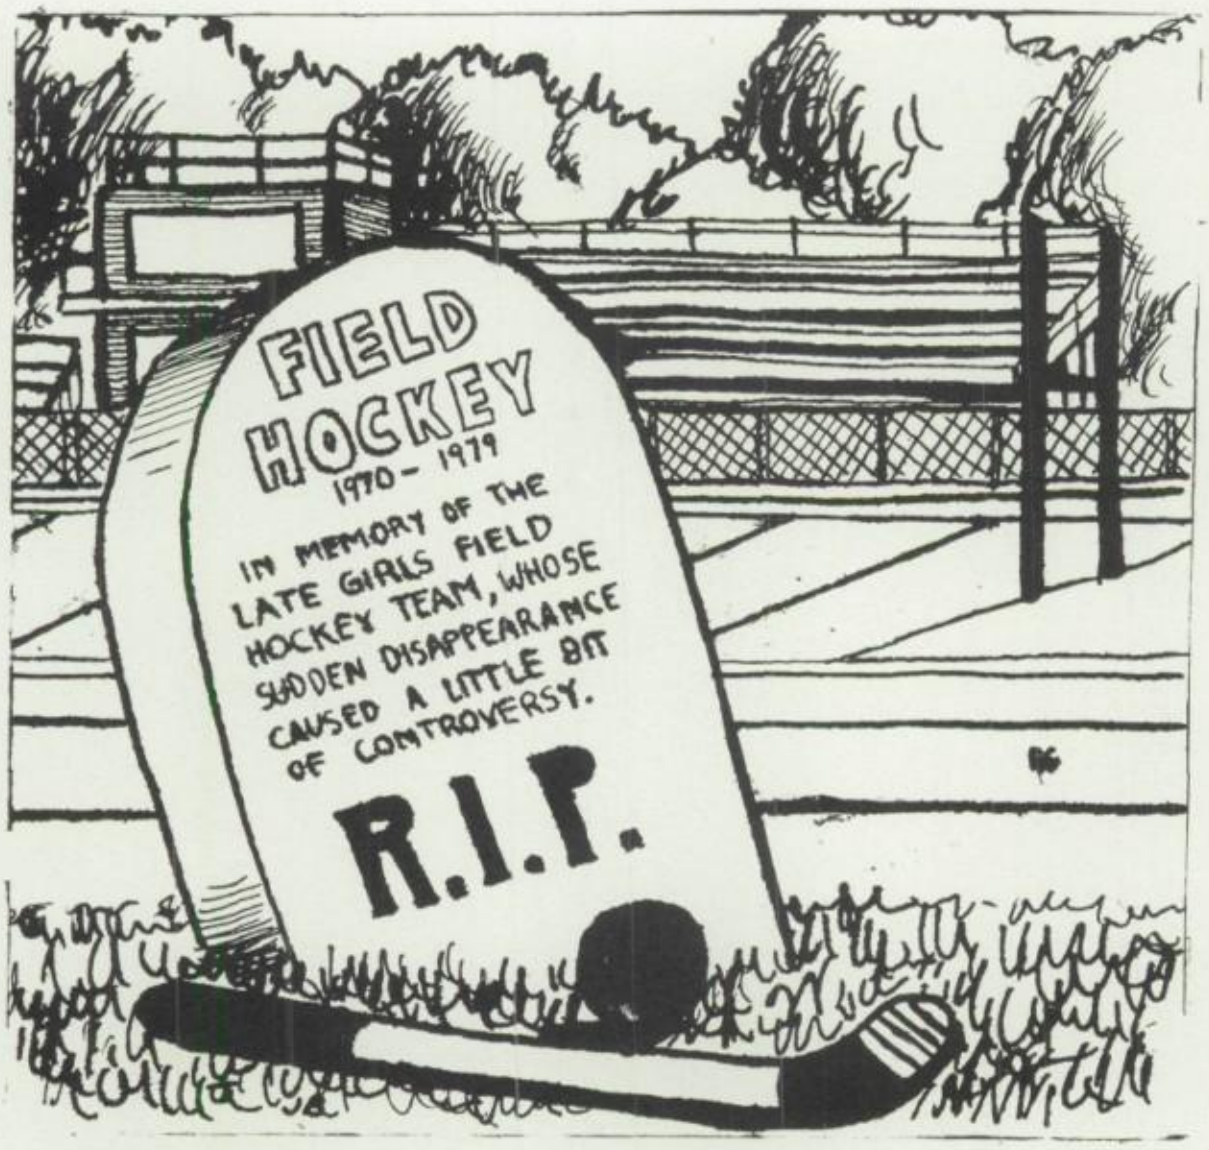
SENIOR



STEVE BARRY



After the existence of a Girl's Field Hockey team for many years, we are sad to say that last year saw the close of its final season. Due to some very unfortunate circumstances, we were forced to bid farewell to the team. When the team was representing East Rockaway High School, it was being coached by Jeffrey Herschenhous, who worked the team through some very rigorous practices. Though the team infrequently had a great winning record, the girls seemed to have enjoyed themselves and the school will miss the efforts of this team in the years to come.

The varsity volleyball team, under the coaching of Mr. Jeffrey Herschenhous, is a strong team this year. The team is very well-balanced and works well together, noted their hopeful coach. The six key players are the Seniors: Denise Carbonaro, Liz Donza, Terry Ianniello, Roberta Greenspan, Melanie Warner and Lisa Wetherell. Although the team will be losing these valuable players next year, there are some underclassmen who look very promising.

Birdie

Because of the determination of the cast and the dedication of Mr. Martin Severino and Mr. Edward Miller, "Bye Bye, Birdie" was performed with great success. The plan debuted Michele Caragiulo in her first school production and once again Peter Rapanaro returned as principal. Among the others who added to the enjoyment of the play were Michael Rieder, Margaret McTague, Mary Ruvolo, Greg Carroll, Scott Gallo, and Lisa Wetherell.

THE SENIOR CLASS presents
FLIGHT INTO DANGER

Once again, under the direction of Mrs. Marion Howard, the Senior Play was presented. Though the turn out was not as big as was hoped for, the Seniors put on a somewhat strong performance. This year's presentation was "Flight into Danger."

"Flight into Danger" was about a case of food poisoning present on board a plane headed to Los Angeles for a football game. The danger started when the pilot, played by Robert Rieder, and the co-pilot (Tommy McTiernan) were struck ill. Also struck ill were two passengers (Milly Connor and Denise Colwell). Luckily for the passengers, a doctor, played by Teresa Bruzzo, was on board. When the passengers found out about the disaster, one passenger (Michael Rieder) offered to take the plane down. With the help of the stewardess (Lisa Wetherell) and of the ground crew (Michelle Caragiulo and Brian Boll), the passenger successfully landed the plane.

As in the past presentations, this one was done quite well and Mrs. Howard deserves a great deal of commendation for her never-ending hard work.

What Is ROCK RIVALRY?

It's that time again
time to practice every single night keep on singing, dancing, saying parts never stopping 'til it's right.
One night practicing at Bruce's leaves us tired and our throats dry and the next time is even worse:
we wonder how we get by.
We realize this is our last time and, yes, we do feel kind of sad but once we see how good we are we become so psyched and glad.
Kevin says his usual speeches his words are carefully said.
We laugh at his sarcasm
but it helps to clear our heads.
Bruce got us rolling with his enthusiasm and his strive to make this the best sometimes we often wondered if he ever got any rest.
John still stood in the back sometimes but his helpful ideas shone through.
He never made us feel like quitting
He always made us feel brand new.
And, yes, we grew to tolerate Peck's sax
but we also realized his tremendous skill;
he never settled for second best and we know he never will.
Miss Kunz, our great advisor, you were always there, boosting us up you gave us the strength to carry on when we all wanted to stop.
And so Bruce, Kevin, John, Steve and Miss Kunz, we'll do this entrance for you,
not just because we should but because "we're in the mood".
And when we're up on that stage,
we'll give them one-hell-of-a-show.
We'll have the audience roaring — that's the only way we'll go.
Our talents and our hard work will so brightly shine through.
We'll scream our lines and have a ball
that's what we plan to do.
To thank-you for doing your job and to say "you're all the greatest in the land," we'll blow the audience right out of the school then walk away with the CUP in our hands.

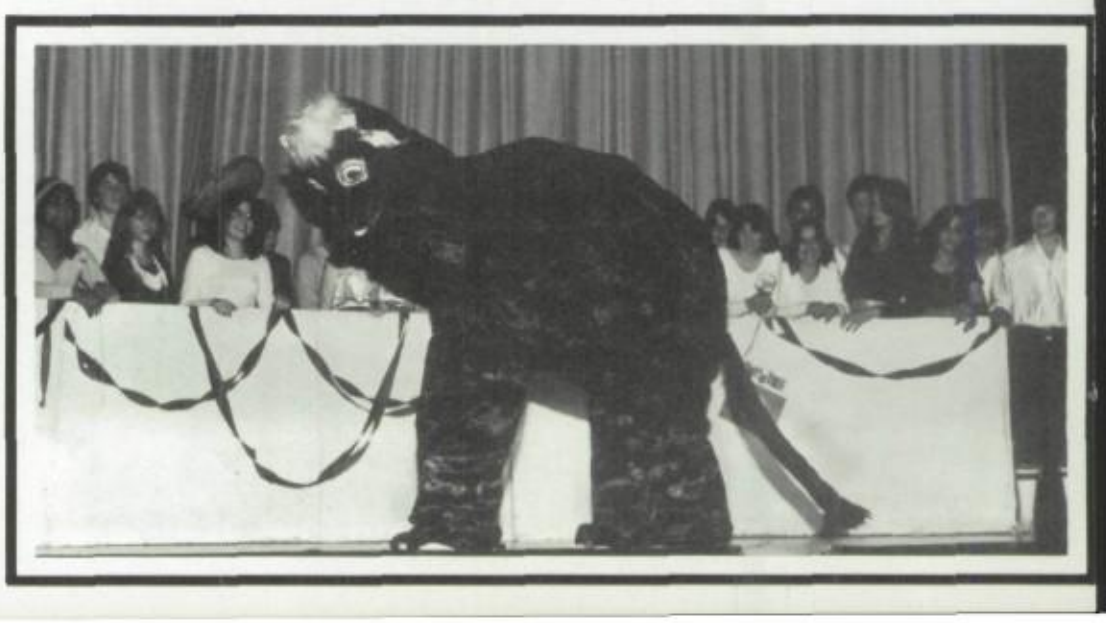
The Freshman Class of 1983 presents
MATADOR MIX-UP

The Freshman Class of 1983 invites you to journey through exciting Spain where an aging matador, Senor Lopez, has fallen in love with a beautiful Senorita named Rosita. She, on the other hand, is in love with both Lopez and a younger matador, Senor Carlos. Rosita is confused and unhappy over the situation but, as most stories go, all turns out well.

Through our Junior High years, we watched other classes putting on entrances, building stands, painting murals and everything else that goes along with R.R. We were super critical of their work and cheered on our favorite classes. Suddenly we became Freshmen and were a competing class ourselves. We now realize how much time and effort is needed for Rock Rivalry. We tried our best and succeeded and our hopes are high for an even bigger success for the Class of 1983 next year.

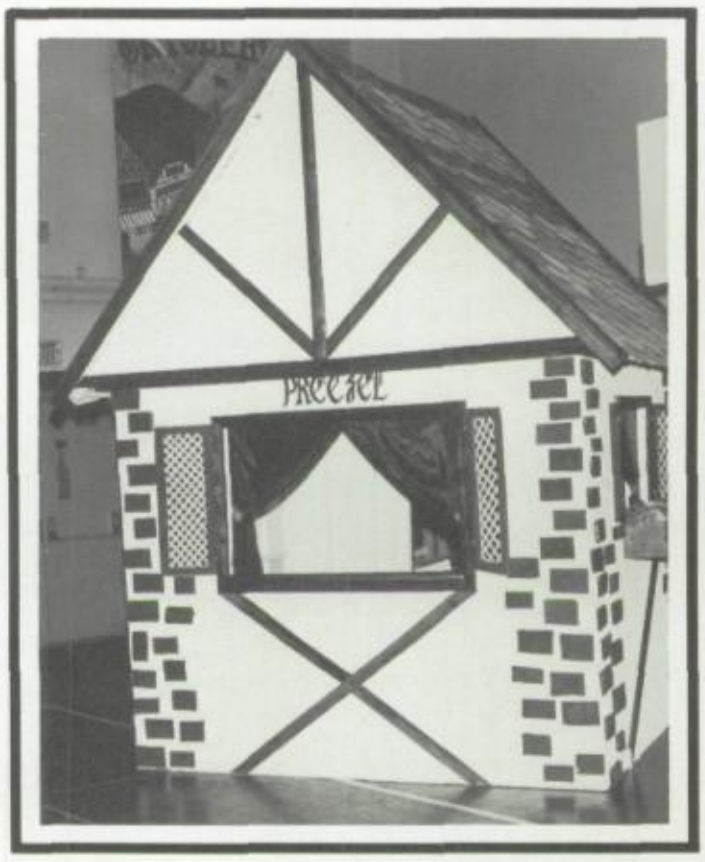


The Sophomore Class of 1982 presents
OKTOBERFURST

"Welcome to Germany!" With these few words, we, the Class of 1982, began our Sophomore entrance. The curtain opened and the audience found themselves amidst the townspeople of Wittenberger. Unknown to both the audience and the town, a wonderful mishap was about to occur that would affect the entire town's future. The story began to unfold, and, by sheer coincidence, beer was created, and the Oktoberfest originated . . . we hope everyone enjoyed our show.

It was a task that even the almighty, Severino felt impossible, that is, coming back from a week and a half deficit and putting on a second place entrance. But, with the support of our sister class, the Seniors, and the kind of cooperation that any winning class needs, the Sophs pulled it together and gave it their best shot.

Many people say that Sophomore year is the hardest, but thanks to Mrs. Palmeri, Mr. Severino, Mr. Richert, Bruce, Kevin, John, and Peck for their never-ending guidance, and the leadership of Jimi, Mike, Jill and Joe, we survived it all and are looking brightly toward our remaining years in R.R. The Seniors have inspired us to keep shooting for the stars, and we will. Also, we'll look forward to you coming back next year to watch us give our best shot at the coveted silver cup. Thanks," 80!



The Junior Class of 1981 presents
A STATE A-FAIR

Howdy, Partners! The Junior Class of 1981 wants to invite you all to Bakersvilles's annual State Fair. The fair revolves around a baking contest between Mrs. Pillsbury and Sara Lee to see who can bake the better pie. But, Mr. Chips, a city slicker has another thing on his mind. By marrying Suzey Q, Mrs. Pillsbury daughter, Mr. Chips gets all the fair ground property. His plans are interrupted by Duncan, Sara Lee's son who gives him away as a crook. Watch and you be the judge.

We would like to thank Mr. Severino and Mr. Richert for their help and being there when we needed them. We would also like to thank our overall chairpersons, Margaret McTague and Keith Lane, whose constant support made us a success. Entrance chairpersons Scott Gallo and Diane Murphy also deserve much credit along with every member of our class. Ms. Joan Faucher, our class advisor, has helped us through many rough spots and is thanked by us all.

The Senior Class of 1980 presents
THE LAST CHIME AROUND

Music, Music has been around almost as long as man himself. It is truly one of the greatest and most time-tested of all of man's inventions. Music is an intangible object, but it can make men laugh or cry at its will.

The town in our story is a musical one, with the jobs of the people revolving around music. Everyone in the town loves music. Everyone, except the evil Dastardly Fink. He bans music and tries to stop the people from enjoying music. But, like the uncontrollable winds, music refuses to die. Seven minstrels from other lands, showing the international aspect of music, show Mr. Fink the true value of music.

Rock Rivalry, like music, is in a way an intangible feeling. The feeling of pulling together over personal differences to emerge as a class. The feeling to put more than just a winning entrance on the stage, to put an entrance to be proud of and to be talked about for years to come. That is the beauty of Rock Rivalry, and that can never be banned.

THE LEGEND LIVES ON!

Once a year, a town east of New York City comes alive in a way that is absolutely more magical than any Merlin could ever conjure up. It is, of course, that unique East Rockaway enterprise known as ROCK RIVALRY.

In six magical weeks, a class must mold together all their diverse personalities into one family that will learn, love, respect and hopefully experience the thrill of victory.

If there ever was a class that exemplified what Rock Rivalry truly is, that class would have to be the Class of 1980. As we relive our Rock Rivalry dynasty, we will look upon it with great pride, love and priceless memories.

In our Freshman year, we made our Rock Rivalry debut with "Amoralaroma." As noble Romans, we began to build our own Rock Rivalry Empire. We scored a total of fifty-one points, which was unprecedented for Freshmen in the history of Rock Rivalry. However, this was only the beginning of the great achievements of our class.

As Sophomores, we put our whole pot of gold in the luck of the Irish. It was Saint Patrick's Day and our very own version of Mac Manara's band left every East Rockawayite doing the Irish jig in the isles. Once again, we devastated the class ahead of us by overwhelmingly defeating them in Entrance.

As Juniors, we illuminated the stage with "London Lights". Our first place mural, with a magnificent replica of the Tower Bridge, was an artistic accomplishment which we will always cherish. Unfortunately, part of the development of any great group is learning to cope with the agony of defeat. For, as Juniors, our great dream of leaving the gym with the cup draped in the British flag, never became a reality. From this lonely, defeated moment, the Class of 1980 vowed that they would never settle for second place in anything ever again. We almost kept that promise.

By our Senior year, we realized that our class was no longer simply a group of individuals who happened to be born in the same year and attend the same school. We realized that we had evolved into an intimate family. From ancient Rome, to the luck of the Irish, through Great Britain and finally right smack into the middle of "The Rock Rivalry Zone." We matured into a cohesive interworking of talents. The single most important bond that held us together was the special love we had developed for each other.

In keeping with our goals of perfection, we decided that an ordinary theme would not do. Therefore, our final performance, as a class, on the East Rockaway High School stage, brought the audience into a musical set of the imagination. For "The Last Chime Around" we rang the bells of victory like they had never been rung before by any other class. We won the cup with a record grand total of 96 points, having swept every single event judged that night.

In all, our Rock Rivalry record speaks for itself in that we hold the record for having scored the highest total over a four year period in the forty-four year old tradition of Rock Rivalry.

Memories of weekly rehearsals, countless meetings, wonderful people, outstanding advisors and the wild weekends will never be forgotten. We will cherish the great times that we have shared in Rock Rivalry, forever. And finally, as the years go by and the pages become yellow with age, a warm smile will always come to mind when we remember what was filed under "R" for the Rock Rivalry Zone.

musn't forget the point penalty which made it 95.

THE DRAMATICS CLUB presents
TEN LITTLE

Ten Little Indians is considered to be one of Agatha Christie's most famous and is the third Christie play to be presented by the Dramatics Club in as many years, and was presented by the Club in 1969.

The story follows Christie's 'formula' which she always seems to make work. Ten people, most of them strangers to one another, find themselves invited to spend a weekend on a deserted island. Little do they know that each is marked for murder and one by one they are all killed until only one remains. But is that last character the murderer? Only Agatha Christie can give you the answer.

The GREAT Class of '80

Editors Note

Words cannot express what the past ten months have meant to us. The 1980 ROCK, here and completed, is more than just words and pictures on a page, and pages in a book, it is a result of much hard work. I will not ramble on, however, about how much work it was beacuse now, it's over. Now, we can be proud of our accomplishment as a whole, and at the same time feel a personal satisfaction since a part of each of us on THE ROCK staff, including our advisor, Mr. Charles McAnulla, went into its creation.

I cannot thank Mr. Mac enough for his time and help. Without him, The 1980 ROCK would not be. My assistant editors, Joanne Chen and Christopher Tamis aided me in the planning and drawing of the pages. At times this work seemed never-ending. Literary editor Rita Dunleavy and her excellent staff contributed to some ingenious copy that you may have read. A yearbook is a book of pictures. Photography editor Kenny Gilloon knew that too and as you can see, has supplied us with excellent photos to help us with our theme. He is an asset to our class. Another asset, whose name is the first you see on this yearbook is art editor, Frank Germano. Frank's work speaks for itself; he has a gift that he has shared with The Class of '80. We shall be in his debt forever. Terry Ianniello, whose middle name is '80, deserves many thanks for making those numerous photo appointments. Typing manager Lisa Wethrell must also be thanked for the enormous amount of typing that needed to be done. Lastly, I would like to thank Bruce Akrongold and Liz Guarnieri, who as Business Managers, had to see that the cost of the yearbook was covered.

It doesn't seem fair that a selected few decide on the theme and organization of the classes' yearbook. There is probably no other way, but it is important that the whole class likes their yearbook. Whether you think the book is best or not, The Class of '80 deserves even better, nothing is too good for you. Good Luck and God Bless You, '80.

HIGH TIMES

IF you love something; set it free; if it comes back to you its yours; if it doesn't it never was! DC

IF THERES A TIME, and the time is now and it's right for me, it's right for me and the time is now, THERS a word and the word is love and it's right for me, it's right for me and the word is love!!!
